

THE FREEMAN.

EBENSBURG, PA. THURSDAY, FEB. 27, 1868.

Our down-town contemporary, The Alleghenian, bade farewell to earth on Thursday last, but did not die without giving the Democratic party in general and our County Commissioners in particular the benefit of a parting salute.

The Situation at Washington.

In speaking of the dismissal of Stanton and the appointment of General Lorenzo Thomas as Secretary of War, ad interim—the refusal of Stanton, under advisement from the leading Radical Senators, to vacate his office—and the threatened impeachment of the President for alleged violation of the tenure-of-office law, the Age so forcibly and clearly expresses the opinions of every Democrat in the country, that, in the absence of anything we might feel disposed to say in reference to the startling movement now in progress, we adopt the language of that able journal, and present its comments in full for the edification of our readers:

The struggle between the President and Congress has at last assumed a shape which promises some kind of a settlement of the difficulty, and for that relief the people of this vexed and troubled nation cannot fail to rejoice. The battle has been a long and tedious one. On one side stood the President of the Republic, with the banner of the Constitution above him—while on the other side was ranged a band of Congressional traitors who sought to destroy every vestige of constitutional liberty in order that their own wicked and demoralized organizations might continue to live. For the sole purpose of perpetuating their power as a political organization, the Radicals are willing to commit any outrage, and by their disgraceful conduct as legislators have branded themselves with infamy in all time to come.

In our telegraphic columns will be found all the details of the latest conflict between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government. We need not recapitulate them here. They are known before the country, and are known and read by all men. The question of who shall act as Secretary of War can be definitely settled by the Supreme Court without delay, and without any appeal to passion or prejudice.

A WAR STAR.—The editor of the Erie Observer has been star gazing, judging from the following: A curious blazing star made its appearance in the North-western portion of the sky on Sunday night, about eight o'clock, lasting until nine. It seemed about three times as large as the famous star of eight years ago, and had a train apparently varying from a yard to two yards in length. The star when first seen was a dazzling red appearance, then changed to blue, and again to white, alternating the color a number of times during its course across the heavens. It traveled with considerable rapidity for a while, but as it neared the horizon, appeared to move slower. The brightness of its rays illuminated the atmosphere for a wide distance to such an extent as to completely dim the other stars in that portion of the sky. About two o'clock in the morning, a similar phenomenon was witnessed, through whether the same star or another of a similar nature, we are compelled to leave persons of more scientific knowledge than ours to decide.

The Lewiston [Me.] journals relate a sad and singular case. About a week ago Mr. C. Hodgson, of South Paris, a conductor on the Grand Trunk Railroad, accidentally forced a splinter into one of his fingers. The wound became inflamed, the swelling increasing rapidly till it extended through the whole arm and shoulder, a large abscess gathering in the arm-pit. On Thursday, after consultation, his physicians opened the abscess, but without giving relief, and the patient died at nine o'clock on Friday morning.

The Cincinnati Commercial has a correspondent in Washington who speaks of one of the habits of the city as "about as worthless a specimen of human nature as God in his inscrutable wisdom has seen fit to create, or man in his unaccountable leniency has hesitated to hang." He remarks that the success of this remarkable individual as "an illustration of what a brass foundry, set up in the human countenance, will accomplish."

It is the duty of the President to refuse to obey the provisions of such a law as the Edmunds bill, or anything of a similar nature. The enactment of such a measure is revolutionary and treasonable. Resistance to it, at every hazard and at every extremity, would cover the President with honor, and be sustained by an overwhelming majority of the American people.

As public journalists we cannot disguise the fact that great perils surround the Republic. No man can tell what a day or an hour may bring forth. The volcano may burst forth at any moment, and deluge the land with fire and desolation. Men may be awakened from their insensibility by the burning lava and devastating flames. Radicalism seems determined to precipitate the evil. If troubles come upon us, the base wretches in Congress will be solely responsible for the new trials they have forced the masses to undergo. This truth cannot be gossamer. It is patent to men of all parties. Nowhere is it so thoroughly understood as among the Republicans themselves. On Saturday morning last a leading Radical of this city, one who has been honored with the confidence of his party, stated unreservedly, that, while he assented to the doctrines of Radicalism, he could not help disapproving of the actions of its leaders in Congress. This sentiment, widespread in its existence, is daily making itself felt in the country. The business interests of the nation, suffering on account of the persistent refusal of a partisan majority in Congress to settle our national difficulties in a speedy and constitutional manner, are beginning to realize the situation and appreciate the dangers of the hour. Alarm and dread pervade all classes. A blow may be struck in just retaliation. To our Democratic and Conservative brethren, we counsel calmness, prudence, and forbearance. Keep within the law, as you have kept within the Constitution, and let the Courts decide where scuffling partisans disagree. Ask nothing, but what is right, while you submit to nothing that is wrong. Then when patience ceases to be a virtue, and your liberties are placed on one side with despotism on the other, act with vigor, energy, and power, unimpaired where the blows fall, or who may be the victims that perish under them. "It is the eternal law that where guilt is, sorrow shall answer it." A wicked party will be as surely punished for its crimes, as a wicked citizen. The hand of justice is already raised to strike down the traitors in Congress who see their power vanishing, now propose to establish a military despotism to re-vitalize their dying organization. That strong hand will reach them all in good season, and on infamy recorded in times past will equal that which will be their sure and certain portion. A fearless Executive, with right on his side, need only appeal to the people to sustain him, and no matter how much his enemies may rave and bluster, if he remains firm in the right masses will rush to his support, and crown him "more than conqueror."

From Tuesday's Age. "As was universally anticipated, the Rump House of Representatives yesterday afternoon declared in favor of the impeachment of the President, and no doubt that fragmentary and unconstitutional body will proceed as quickly as possible to finish the discreditable business in which they are now engaged. We say "fragmentary and unconstitutional body," because long after war has ceased and the rival armies have been disbanded, the Radical majority in Congress has ceaselessly kept ten sovereign States from all participation in the government, and has also refused to admit to its councils the representatives of other States which never attempted to secede from the Union. While the Rump was raving over the impeachment project, the President, "at the other end of the avenue," was coolly and quietly discharging his official duties as he understood them, and sent to the Senate the name of Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, as Secretary of War, in place of Edwin M. Stanton, removed. Thus ended yesterday in Washington."

The New Sees and Bishops.

As has before been stated in the See, the Most Reverend Archbishop of Baltimore has received letters from Rome, in which the official action of the Holy See upon the acts and decrees of the late Plenary Council of Baltimore is fully announced. The decrees of the Council are approved, with some slight corrections, partly verbal. The Archbishop makes the following announcement:

In answer to the petition of the prelates composing the Council, the Holy See has erected nine new Episcopal Sees and four new Apostolic Vicariates, and has appointed fourteen new Bishops, three of them to fill vacant Sees already established, besides one promoted from Vicar Apostolic to a regular Episcopal See. This is the Right Rev. Dr. O'Connell, Vicar Apostolic at Marysville, California, who has been made Bishop of Grass Valley, in California. The following list will exhibit the names of the new Sees or Vicariates which have been erected, and those already existing Sees which have been filled, with the names of the distinguished ecclesiastics who have been promoted:

- 1. The vacant See of Buffalo has been filled by the appointment of the Right Rev. Stephen Vincent Ryan, C. M. V. Visitor of the Congregation now residing in Germantown, Pa.
2. The vacant See of Louisville, by the Right Rev. William McCloskey, D. D. Rector of the American College in Rome.
3. The vacant See of Erie, by the Right Rev. Tobias Mullin, Vicar General of Pittsburgh.
4. To the newly elected See of Columbus, Ohio, the Right Rev. Sylvester H. Rosecrans, D. D., Auxiliary of Cincinnati, has been transferred.
5. The new See of Rochester, N. Y., is filled by the Right Rev. Bernard Knapp, President of Seton Hall College, New Jersey.
6. The new See of Wilmington, Delaware, by the Right Rev. Thomas A. Becker, D. D., of Richmond, Va.
7. The new See of Scranton, Pa., by the Right Rev. William O'Hara, D. D. Vicar General of Philadelphia.
8. The new See of Harrisburg, Pa., by the Right Rev. Jeremiah F. Shanahan, Rector of the Preparatory Seminary of St. Charles Borromeo, Diocese of Philadelphia.
9. The new See of Green Bay, Wisconsin, by the Right Rev. Joseph Melcher, Vicar General of St. Louis.
10. The new See of La Crosse, Wisconsin, by the Right Rev. Michael Heiss, Secretary of the Bishop of Milwaukee.
11. The new See of St. Joseph, Missouri, by the Right Rev. John Hogan, of Missouri.
12. The new Vicariate Apostolic of North Carolina, by the Right Rev. James Gibbons, Secretary of the Archbishop of Baltimore.
13. The new Vicariate Apostolic of Idaho, by the Right Rev. Louis Loutens, of the Arch-diocese of San Francisco.
14. The new Vicariate Apostolic of Colorado, embracing also Utah, by the Right Rev. J. Projectus Machobouf, Vicar General of Santa Fe.
15. The new Vicariate Apostolic of Montana, by the Right Rev. Augustine Ravoux, Vicar General of St. Paul, Minnesota.

The erection of the Vicariate of Arizona, for which the Prelate had petitioned, is delayed for the present, probably as premature; as is also the appointment of a Co-adjutor to the lamented Right Rev. Dr. Baraga, Bishop of Marquette, lately deceased. The delay in the latter case was caused by the desire to obtain full information in reference to candidates proposed, the sudden and dangerous illness of the venerable Bishop at the beginning of the Council having made it impossible for him to fill up the descriptive and explanatory lists containing the requisite information, so wisely required by the Holy See in such cases.

The pontifical letters, in the form of briefs, authorizing the consecration of the new Prelates, have not yet arrived, but they are promised so soon as they can be prepared, and we trust that the delay will not be protracted. By order of the Most Rev. Archbishop. THOS. FOLEY, Chancellor.

POVERTY AND AMALGAMATION.—In Buffalo, in a hotel, lately, were arrested a negro man named Thomas Hopkins, with a white woman who claims to be his wife, and two small children, aged two and four years respectively the offspring of the woman's former husband—a white man. When found the children were lying in an almost nude state on a bundle of dirty straw, with a scanty piece of quilt, not sufficient to cover them, and were shivering from the cold, with the snow drifting through cracks of the pen in which they were living. The mother is a miserable, dissipated creature, and has subsisted on articles which the negro stole. Hopkins himself was a coarse and ugly negro, of the lowest type. He was sent to the workhouse, the woman and children to the almshouse.

Joseph Reed Ingersoll, a well-known citizen of Philadelphia, died on Thursday afternoon, at the advanced age of eighty-two.

Roger Collyer, seventy years of age, lost his way on Monday, near Worcester, Mass., and fell into a post-hole. He crawled out and perished with cold.

The national debt was increased six millions in December, twelve millions in January, and twenty millions in February. That is what the Mongrels call "retrenchment."

It is said that the Governors of several of the "loyal" States have tendered Congress the militia of the several States they represent. This is rather cheap patriotism, but it will look well on paper.

An act repealing the law allowing negroes to ride in the passenger railway cars was indefinitely postponed in the House of Representatives of this State on the 20th instant, by a strict party vote—all the Radicals for the negroes—all the Democrats for the white men.

Thurlow Weed suggests that Congress call in the Preamble to the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, and Washington's Farewell address, and burn them, as the people may possibly get to reading them, and that would create uneasiness.

A singular death occurred in Lyons Iowa, recently. A mother left an infant in care of a little girl, when out a short time. The child drew the crib containing the baby close to the stove, in which there was a very hot fire, and without being burned, the infant was so heated that death resulted in a few days.
